Everything is Possible: Life and Business Lessons from a Self-Made Billionaire and the Founder of Slim-Fast By S. Daniel Abraham

In Everything Is Possible, Dan Abraham, the legendary founder of Slim-Fast, recounts the story of his personal and business life, starting from his childhood and army years and his purchase of Thompson Medical for $5,000 when he was in his early twenties, and culminating in the sale of Slim-Fast for $2.3 billion in 2000. At the heart of Everything Is Possible are 16 life lessons that Abraham has picked up in sixty years of a hard-working business career. Among them:

- There is no such thing as a mistake (see pages 198–202)
- Why I always insured that my suppliers made a profit (see pages 208–9)
- The philosophy of continuous improvement (see pages 202–5)
- If you have a theory and the facts dispute it, drop your theory (pages 205–8)
- The realization that we all have both good and bad luck in our lives, but many of us don't prepare for either (pages 216–9)
- I never saw a man pick a fight with a stronger man (pages 191–5)

But this memoir, a brilliant guide for anyone starting and growing a business, is about far more than business. Abraham tells the heartwarming story of growing up in a modest home in Long Beach, New York, and the lessons he learned from his mother, father, and one high school teacher that have guided him ever since. And there is more, much more: a discussion of his beliefs about the pleasure of giving; what he has learned from Judaism about ethics and the Golden Rule; and what he learned from his experiences with the FDA about the importance of compromise and about the necessity to fight hard when you believe you're right.

At a time, when newspapers are filled with reports of business fraud and deceptions, and when so many people believe that to have spectacular success in business you have to be ruthless and dishonest, this is an account of a business life that has been lived honorably, passionately, and successfully, and with fun. Everything Is Possible is a book to be savored and shared with young and old alike.

Editorial Review

Review

"I have known Dan Abraham for years, as both a close friend and a tireless advocate for peace between Israel and her neighbors. Now he reveals a side of himself he normally talks about only rarely and briefly: his personal story and his legendary and laudable business success in the creation of Slim-Fast, one of the most successful and beneficial products of the past fifty years."—President Bill Clinton

"Everything is Possible is filled with Dan Abraham's trademark directness, common sense, and infectious optimism—applied to politics, to business, to life."—President Bill Clinton

About the Author

S. Daniel Abraham, the former chairman of Slim-Fast Foods, is the founder of the Center for Middle East Peace and Economic Cooperation in Washington, D.C., and a dedicated philanthropist devoted to Israel and Mideast peace. His other philanthropic projects address the needs of the homeless, terminally ill children, and abused children, as well as issues concerning health care, education, nutrition research, and Jewish life. A New York native, he now lives in Palm Beach, Florida, with his wife, Ewa, and their two young children, Sarah and Sam.
