Editorial Review

From School Library Journal

PreSchool-Grade 2 - The infectious song from Guys and Dolls is delightfully celebrated in this illustrated version. Two endearing ducklings, one wearing overalls and the other in a pink skirt and headband, court one another while going through a busy day on the farm. The vibrantly colored single- and double-page paintings are packed with humorous details. For example, one scene shows the male duck driving a pickup truck while the female rides in the back with a load of pumpkins. One bump later, she and the pumpkins are lifted into the air. Next, she drives the truck while he rides in the back. For the lyrics "Barrel and a heap/and I'm talkin' in my sleep/about you./About you?/About you!/My heart is leapin'!/I'm having trouble sleepin'!" the illustrations show the duck lying wide awake in his bed, and then finally phoning his sleepy sweetheart on the next page. In the end, the couple drives off in a wind-up toy red convertible. Delicious endpapers show bushels and pecks of freshly harvested produce against a deep blue background. The words and music are appended. This merry romp is perfect for little "guys and dolls." - Bina Williams, Bridgeport Public Library, CT

PreS. In an exuberant read-aloud for the lap-sit crowd, Wells illustrates Loesser's famous song from Guys and Dolls with bright farmyard scenes of two ducklings that flirt and play. The ducks embody the best of Wells' popular animal cast, both sweet and tough, and toddlers will be smitten by the blend in words and pictures of soppy love, mischief, and mayhem ("The cows and chickens / are going to the dickens"). He is in overalls; she is in a purple skirt. They jump rope, and he dances on the apple barrel; plays accordion, banjo, trumpet, and violin ("doodle oodle oodle") for her; and shouts "I love you" from a propeller plane flying above the fields. Loesser's words and music are at the back, and the sweet nonsense is sure to have both readers and listeners joining in with the ducks to act out the hugs and pecks. Hazel Rochman
